

Healing with Love and Horses

Journey to Wholeness through the Way of the Heart

Join us for a three-day journey of healing with the energy of the whole through the wisdom of the heart and the spirit of the horse. In this transformative workshop, you will experience Holoenergetic® Healing, a system of energy healing that traces illness, suffering and distress to its source—apparent separation from the whole—and transforms these energies of separation into unitive love. Through a connection with horses and nature you will gain awareness of energy patterns that can create illness and have the opportunity to bring healing to those areas of your life.

This seminar will assist you in:

- Establishing a loving, healing presence in alignment with your spiritual essence
- Activating the body's immune system to help transform illness into wellness
- Recognizing, understanding, releasing, and reforming energy patterns that are at the core of illness
- Bringing peace, power, and intuitive guidance into your life and into the lives of others
